Continued from page 343

Mr. Akright told the Commission that once he had the trade-in values of the 2 graders the County was trading in he would meet with them again to discuss final costs. He would also arrange for Matt Bartels, the finance officer from Cat, to be with him in order to discuss all options for financing.

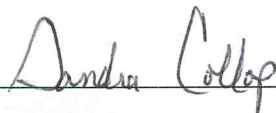

Mr. Akright discussed the options and capabilities of the M Series 3 and asked if anyone had additional questions. There were no additional questions. Commissioner Adams said once final costs were received, they could make a better determination.

Mr. Akright thanked everyone for their time and the meeting ended.

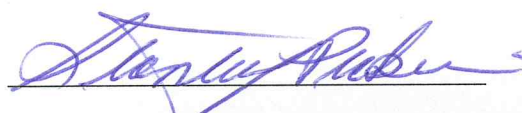

The Commission spent the rest of the day attending to County business.

The Adair County Commission adjourned at 4:00 p.m. on May 14, 2014.
